

1. Terry Fox is the person Canadians are most proud of.
2. In 1980, he captivated a nation with his Marathon of Hope.
3. Terry inspired Canadians by showing that one person can make a difference.
4. Despite struggling with cancer, he worked selflessly to raise money for cancer research.
5. Terry started a grassroots movement when he said:
6. "If you've given a dollar, you're part of the Marathon of Hope."
7. He knew that ending cancer was too much for just one person, saying:
8. "Even if I don't finish, we need others to continue. It's got to keep going without me."
9. Terry's heroism is still inspiring us to work toward finding a cure for cancer.
10. Because of the money raised by the Terry Fox Foundation, we now understand the disease better than ever before.
11. That's why Terry's accomplishment is celebrated every year at Terry Fox Runs across the country.
12. It doesn't matter where you came from. [in Spanish]
13. All that matters is that we work together.
14. You can follow in Terry's footsteps by raising money and help us get closer to ending cancer.
15. In this, the nation's 150th anniversary, we're honouring a Canadian hero.
16. So join us on Sunday, September 17 for the Wilmot Terry Fox Run.
17. Because Terry Fox lives here.
